

ALL PARIS MOURNS
FOR SADI CARNOT.

MOBS AVENGE THE PRESIDENT'S ASSASSINATION.

Details of the Ruler's Death—Attacked in His Carriage and Stabbed by an Italian—He Remains Conscious Until Death—Utmost Excitement Throughout France.

PARIS, June 25.—The deepest sorrow and anger prevails throughout France. Madame Carnot and her sons arrived in Lyons at 7 o'clock this morning and viewed the body in the prefecture for some time. Several Italian flags, which had been hung out to show sympathy were torn down by the mob this morning. Carnot was stabbed last evening in Lyons and died forty minutes past midnight. As the president was leaving the banquet of the exposition at Lyons at 9:30 o'clock in order to go to the theater he was stabbed with a knife in the stomach in the region of the liver. The assassin was arrested and was recognized as an Italian who had arrived in Lyons yesterday afternoon. He has refused to answer any questions until he is brought before the judges. The man's name is Cesare Giovanni Santo.

The crowd that assembled as soon as the assassination of the president became known attacked and demolished three Italian cafes in Lyons. It was impossible, in spite of the intervention of the troops, to keep the crowd in check. The condition of the president was very alarming. The physicians succeeded in checking the hemorrhage, but at 11 o'clock it broke out again and the case became hopeless.

Mme. Carnot and her children left for Lyons on a special train at 1 o'clock this morning. M. Dupuy, the premier and president of the council of ministers, returned to Paris at once. The council is convened to meet at 10 o'clock this morning.

The death of President Carnot will cause a profound sensation throughout the entire country. Paris is quiet, but to-morrow there will certainly be great excitement. Carnot was the type of an honest bourgeois, and in his unmerited and stupid death he will be profoundly saluted by all his adversaries. He did not merit such an end. He may have committed faults against parliamentary discipline, but he never committed any against political honesty. During his presidency he had to struggle against serious difficulties, and he always knew how to act with moral dignity.

The fact that this assassination has been committed on the anniversary of the battle of Solferino has been much commented on.

The political situation is very simple. Until the meeting of congress, which is composed of the senate and chamber of deputies, the president of the senate, Chammel Lacour, is president of the republic ad interim. The congress will probably meet Wednesday. Two candidates remain—M. Casimir-Perier and M. Charles Dupuy. The election of the former is probable.

WASHINGTON, June 25.—The senate and house today passed resolutions of condolence over the death of President Carnot, and then adjourned until 10 o'clock tomorrow. President Cleveland and Mr. Thurber were on the point of leaving the white house for a drive when the sad news of France's bereavement was conveyed to them. In reply to a query addressed to him by a correspondent the president stated he had received no official news regarding the assassination of President Carnot, and consequently could not express any opinion at the time upon the shocking occurrence.

BERLIN, June 25.—Chancellor Von Caprivi called at the French embassy at 10 o'clock this morning to express his condolences.

HOW THE ASSASSIN DID HIS WORK.

President Carnot Struck While on His Way to the Theater.

LYONS, June 25.—The most intense excitement has been caused everywhere in France by the assassination of President Carnot. The president was visiting Lyons in connection with the international exhibition. Upon his arrival here he was tendered a reception at the prefecture, after which he visited the exhibition. After spending some time at the exhibition he proceeded to the Palais de Commerce, where a banquet was given in his honor.

At 9:25 o'clock President Carnot started for the theater, where a gala performance was to be given because of his presence in the city. Several carriages were in the procession, the first one being occupied by the president. M. Carnot's carriage was driven slowly along in front of the Palais de Commerce, and then turned into Rue de la Republique, still following the facade of the palace, when half way down the street, which was lined with enthusiastic crowds of people who were loudly cheering, a man rushed out of the crowd and sprang upon the step of the president's landau.

Just at this moment M. Carnot was waving his right hand and saluting with his hat in his left hand in response to the greeting that was being given him by the crowd. The people close to the carriage saw the man standing on the step had a knife in his hand. By the glare of the electric lights they saw the bright blade gleam in the air as the assassin's arm descended, and then President Carnot was seen to fall back in his seat, his face deathly pale. One of his hands was pressed over his heart, where the steel had entered the body.

M. Rivaud, prefect of Lyons, who was seated beside M. Carnot, immediately struck the assassin a blow full in the face and knocked him from the step, thus preventing the man from again stabbing the president, which it was his evident intention to do.

Instantly cries of "Le president est assassin," "Mort a la assassin," were heard on every side and the crowd in the vicinity of the carriage swelled to enormous proportions, every member of it seemingly intent upon killing the assassin. He was grasped by a dozen hands and his life would have been ended and there paid the forfeit of his crime had it not been for several sergeants de ville, who seized him and attempted to draw him away from his captors. This was found to be impossible, as the infuriated populace were determined to lynch the man and the efforts of the sergeants availed nothing beyond saving the man from instant death.

Blows were aimed at his face and head over the shoulders of the police, who had by this time received reinforcements; and many of the blows landed fairly. At last the police succeeded in driving the howling mob back a foot or so from their prisoner, but to get the captive through the crowd was a physical impossibility.

In the meantime the news of the attempted murder had spread with lightning-like rapidity and mounted guards were sent to the aid of the police, who were still struggling to save the life of the assassin. With drawn sabers in their hands the guards rode down into the crowd heedless of whom their horses trampled upon. The crowd gave way before the horses and at last the center of the mob was reached. Then a cordon was formed around the ten almost exhausted policemen and their captive and the march to the police station began.

Even thus surrounded the prisoner was not safe, for men in the crowd made frantic endeavors to reach him. The guards repelled these attacks with the flat sides of their swords, while at the same time keeping watchful eyes upon the crowd to prevent the prisoner from being shot. Maledictions were hurled upon the captive, and never before has such a wild indignation against a human being been seen in this city.

Cesare Giovanni Santo is a beardless young man 29 or 35 years old. When arrested he was attired in a brown suit and wore a peaked cap that matched the suit in color.

As he marched under his police guard from the Rue de la Republique to the station he held his head down, but his eyes glanced furtively around, as though he was seeking an opportunity to escape from his captors. To have made such an attempt, however, would have been the height of foolhardiness, unless he desired to commit suicide, for there is not the slightest doubt that had he got away from the protection of the police he would have been torn limb from limb by the crowd, whose every action showed that they were thirsty for his blood.

ITALIAN CAFES ARE WRECKED.

Crowds Take Summary Vengeance on the Countrymen of Santo.

LYONS, June 25.—After M. Carnot had been taken to the prefecture it became generally known that his assassin was an Italian and the feeling of deep indignation among the crowd found vent in the form of attacks upon cafes kept by inoffensive natives of Italy. Three such places in the vicinity of the palace of commerce were totally wrecked by the infuriated mob.

French flags which were in abundance were then procured by the crowd, and with cries of "Down with the foreigners!" "Out with them!" hundreds of men and boys marched to the Rue de la Barre, in which street the Italian consulate is situated. There is no doubt that the consulate would have been sacked had it not been for the prompt action of the police, who stopped the crowd and compelled its members to disperse.

The excitement continues at fever heat, and it would take very little to precipitate bloody anti-Italian riots. All over the city threats are made to take summary vengeance upon the countrymen of Santo, and the authorities, fearing that attempts will be made to put these threats into effect, ordered bodies of cuirassiers to patrol the city to prevent any outbreak. Everywhere the troops are greeted with cries of "Long live the army!"

After the attacks upon the Italian cafes, the disorderly element among the crowds devoted their attention to the Italians whom they found upon the streets. Several of these men pursued by the mob, barely escaped with their lives. The police, who were extraordinarily vigilant, had great difficulty in rescuing the hunted men. The Rue de la Barre is now barricaded at both ends and guarded by troops.

PEOPLE WEEP AND CRY VENGEANCE

Fifty Thousand People on the Streets of Lyons After the Murder.

LYONS, June 25.—The assassin presented himself at the door of the president's carriage holding a rose in his hand. This is the reason why the police allowed him to approach. The president of the department of Rhone, as soon as the murder was known, went to the theater and advised the public to remain calm. The theater was at once emptied. All the illuminations were extinguished. Men and women in the streets wept and shouts of vengeance against the Italians were heard from the crowd.

More than 50,000 people went towards the Italian consulate, around which the police, warned in time, had massed. The crowd demanded that the Italian flag and coat of arms should be removed. Another part of the crowd went to the Cafe Casati, kept by an Italian, and in spite of the presence of the troops sacked the place and burnt all its contents.

The wound received by M. Carnot was in the upper liver, which was pierced through and through. From the first the physicians believed that the wounded man was lost. He was transported on a mattress and his clothing was cut off him. In order to facilitate the bleeding the breast was opened to a length of twenty centimeters. Because of the president's weakness chloroform was not administered, and he cried out several times: "Mon Dieu, Est-ce que cela ne finira pas? Mon Dieu. Comme je souffre." (My God. Will this never end? My God, how I am suffering.) He died at 12:43.

CONSCIOUS UNTIL DEATH COMES.

The President Receives the Sacrament and Knows Friends Are Near.

LYONS, June 25.—Shortly after midnight the archbishop of Lyons was summoned to the bedside of the dying president to administer to him the last rites of the church. He was in the room but a short time when he emerged and retired to an adjoining room. Here he remained until 12:30 o'clock, when he was again summoned to the president's room, where he administered to him the sacrament. M. Carnot remained conscious to the last. He realized that his life was rapidly ebbing away and twice he said "Je m'en vais." Dr. Poncet leaned over the bed on which the president was lying and said to him, "Your friends are here, Monsieur le President."

M. Carnot replied, "I am grateful for their presence," and in less than a minute he gasped for breath, there was a convulsive shuddering of his body, and the president of France was dead.

LILLY HALL DID NOT DO WELL

Her Husband Turns Out to Be a Bigamist, Ex-Saloonkeeper and Swindler.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, June 25.—Lilly Hall, the actress who met James Cooley while filling an engagement in this city and subsequently was married to him in New York, under the impression that he was wealthy, has discovered that her husband besides being an ex-saloonkeeper without means is a bigamist, having a wife and several children in Union county, this state. After the marriage the couple took their departure for a European trip, and upon their return Cooley, being out of money, deserted his wife in New York. The wife came to this city two months ago to visit her sister, Fannie Hall, now filling an engagement at a theater here, and incidentally to look for her husband. It also turns out that Cooley has been working an extensive scheme to defraud the United States pension department by means of false affidavits. He was recently arrested in Philadelphia and brought to Columbus. The affidavit charging him with bigamy was served on him in the county jail to-day, where he was confronted by the deserted wife.

TWO HUNDRED BURIED.

Terrible Explosion in a Wales Colliery—Great Loss of Life Feared.

CARDIFF, Wales, June 25.—A dispatch from Pont-y-Pirdd, Glamorgan, says that a terrible explosion occurred Saturday afternoon in the Albion colliery near that place. Two hundred miners are buried beneath the debris of the mine. Their fate is unknown, but it is believed that a large number of them have been killed.

Outbreak of Indians in Prospect.

CHEYENNE, Wyo., June 25.—Four lodges of Arapahoe Indians, under charge of citizens, were arrested on New Fork river, Fremont county, to-day, charged with killing cattle and game. There is great excitement over the matter among the Indians on the Shoshone reservation, and wise action on the part of Indian Agent Ray will alone avert serious trouble.

Wood Is Chosen Commander.

EAU CLAIRE, Wis., June 25.—The state encampment of the Sons of Veterans to-day elected officers as follows: Commander, B. H. Wood, West Superior; senior vice-commander, W. J. Patton, Milwaukee; junior vice-commander, William Delahorte, Green Bay. Green Bay was chosen as the place for the next encampment.

Young Bride Commits Suicide.

DANVILLE, Ill., June 25.—Mrs. John Montgomery a young bride, committed suicide by taking poison. Her husband, it is said, deserted her, going to Williamsport, Ind.

Alexander Leaves Serbia.

BELGRADE, June 25.—King Alexander starts for Constantinople to-morrow. His majesty intrusts the regency to his ministers during his absence.

GO DOWN TO DEATH
ON A FISHING TUG

THIRTY-ONE DROWNED AT NEW YORK.

Excursionists Lose their Lives While Enjoying a Trip On New York Harbor—Accident Caused by Carelessness of the Crew—Complete List of the Dead.

NEW YORK, June 25.—The tug James B. Nicoll, having on board sixty-five young men, principally from this city, though a few are known to have belonged to Brooklyn, was sunk just outside of Sandy Hook at 12 o'clock last night. It also had a crew of three men and a captain.

So far as it is known only thirty-eight persons were saved.

The bodies recovered so far are: —

Keiser, Thomas Marsey.
The list of missing is as follows: Frederick Bolling, Louis Bierman, Christian Brecht, Herman Eberhardt, John Elbright, Griesmann, Charles Graham, Christiansen Hahn, James Hayes, Louis Hochrein, Richard Howes, John Higgins, Frank Kaiser, Hugh Milholland, William Moore, John McNamee, Edward McCabe, Dell Moran, Fred Piening, Henry Piening, Albert Pabst, Frank Schultz, William Schultz, Theodore Schlissinger, Fred Unterheit, George Wanke, Emil Wolff, Joseph Wolff, Herman Wolff.

Among those who were saved on the Sayre were:

Paluck Howe, George Grobe, Henry Kessler, John Kessler, Thomas Maurer, Dell Hogan, H. R. Stratton, Thomas Thorson, August Froyer, Gus Kerchener, William Wiesler, James Brady, Eddie Cabe, William Kerchener and Joseph Farrell.

Those saved by the Algonquin were: Edward Cape, Charles J. Denzinger, Charles Glockmar, George E. Plitt, B. L. Wood, John Magale, Charles Eberhard, Jerome Carleton and James Gilmore.

It was an outing of the Herring Fishing club, of which Charles Kirchner, 494 Second avenue, is the president. A count of the tickets issued yesterday puts the total number of the excursionists at sixty-five. Mr. Kirchner, who with others was rescued by the tug, Robert H. Sayer, is unable to say who the men were that were lost. He can only describe them as, for the most part young men, ranging in age from 19 to 25. He puts the blame for the shocking fatality upon whoever it was of the tug's crew that was at the wheel at the time. It seems to have been a case of an attempt on the part of those who managed the tug to frighten and enjoy the fright of their passengers.

The fishing party left the pier No. 3 North River, at 7 a. m. and proceeded at once to the banks below Sandy Hook. It is said by the survivors that the fishing was poor and that the officers of the club requested the captain to weigh anchor a number of times in search of better places. The captain, as he was bound to do, complied with these requests, but was evidently vexed and out of sorts. When finally the sea became so high that it was necessary to turn the tug homeward, the opportunity, it is said, was seized upon by those in charge of the tug to give the excursionists a shaking up and a dose of salt water. There was a strong tide running and a stiff breeze from the southwest. The tug plunged its nose deep in the billows, while the stern was lifted high out of the water. If it were really the aim of the crew to frighten the passengers it succeeded. With each terrific plunge of the tug the party on board became more alarmed and panic-stricken. The alarm increased to such an extent that the passengers became uncontrollable.

Suddenly, when about two miles to the westward of Scotland lightship, a panic-stricken rush was made by nearly everybody on board to the port side of the tug. Just at that instant the vessel was lifted on a rising wave and the weight on its side capsize it to port. It sank in an incredibly short time before there was a chance to make any use of the life preservers with which the craft was provided.

The nearest vessel to the scene of the disaster was the coast steamer Algonquin and the tug Robert H. Sayer of Hoboken. The former, doubtless unaware that the sunken tug had so large a party on board, sent only one lifeboat to the rescue. The Saver, which was returning from the banks with eighty members of the Henry Cushing Fishing club of Hoboken, got the spot at the same time the Algonquin's lifeboat did and was able to render efficient aid.

Clinging to the outside of a boat from the sunken tug were a number of men, who were promptly rescued. Others of the shipwrecked party were supporting themselves on board and boxes which had been swept from the deck of the Nicoll as it capsized.

Beautiful Pictures in the Sky.

COLUMBUS, Ind., June 25.—The western sky last evening contained a beautiful picture in the form of a mirage. Painted on the sky was a beautiful city, with its churches, spires, elegant buildings, and wide streets, lined with shade trees. The adjacent hillsides were covered with green foliage, and a peaceful river shone like silver. The clouds which surrounded this scene were tinted with the various colors of the rainbow.

THE TARIFF TALKING TO END.

It Is Expected that a Vote Will Be Taken On the Bill Wednesday.

WASHINGTON, June 25.—There is little doubt in any quarter that the present week will see the end of the tariff debate in the senate. Estimates as to the time when the final vote shall be reached range from Tuesday until Saturday, but a majority of the senate has expressed the opinion that the final vote will be taken Wednesday or Thursday. With the thermometer ranging from 95 degrees to 96 degrees, as it did Saturday and Sunday, senators find every reason for dispatching the business as rapidly as possible. In view of this fact, Senator Harris still thinks it possible to conclude the work on the bill to-morrow night. To accomplish this, however, means very rapid work, comparatively few speeches and the possible postponement of important items, such as reciprocity, until a conference report shall be made. Senator Allison, who has had long experience with the tariff and appropriation bills and other legislation affecting diversified interest, expresses the opinion that the senate will not dispose of the bill in committee of the whole before to-morrow night, and the four remaining days of the week will be necessary to finish the work on the bill in the senate. He also thinks it probable there will be some general speeches by those who, finding that the debate is coming to a close, will want to be heard upon some point of interest to them or their people. The more important questions yet to be disposed of in committee are: The remainder of the income tax, the whisky and spirit law, the tobacco tax, Senator Teller's retaliation diamond amendment, the spun silk yarn question, which was passed over when the silk question was under consideration, and the reciprocity question, if it be not postponed, and in the senate sugar and wool as well as others. If the final vote is reached on the tariff bill before Saturday the appropriation bills which have been reported will be immediately taken up, but in what order has not yet been determined.

RAILWAY POOLING.

Important Railway Bill to Come Up This Week in the House.

WASHINGTON, June 25.—Railway pooling is expected to be the main subject for discussion before the house during the coming week, with the admission of New Mexico to statehood and the taxation of greenbacks as incidental questions. Speaker Crisp's illness has prevented the arrangement of any exact program, but Representative Catchings of the rules committee said that these bills mentioned were likely to occupy the week, although no order of precedence for them had been arranged.

The pooling bill is regarded as one of the most important measures before congress. It is a revision of the interstate commerce law, so as to permit railroads to pool their earnings under certain restrictions. The bill also overcomes the impotency of the interstate commerce commission, due to its inability to compel witnesses to testify. The pooling provision is strongly urged by the railroads and is endorsed by the interstate commerce commission and by all state railway commissioners except that of Minnesota. It is said that the anti-pooling section of the present law has led to fraud among shippers and to secret rate cutting among roads. The bill provides that the pooling contract must first be submitted to and approved by the interstate commerce commission.

The New Mexico bill promises to be urged to a conclusion this week, as Speaker Crisp is not disposed to let it drag along any further. There have been many efforts to push it to passage, but this one is expected to be final.

Favors Irrigation of Arid Lands.

WASHINGTON, June 25.—One of the most concise and interesting discussions of the questions of irrigating the arid lands of the west, from a western standpoint, is the report made by Representative Sweet of Idaho upon which was agreed upon by the western members in caucus. Representative Sweet asserts that if the land and water of the arid regions are properly utilized and economized millions of acres which are now but waste places will become fertile homes for thousands. The expenditures necessary if the government should enter upon a policy of national reclamation, Mr. Sweet says, have been generally exaggerated. It would not be necessary to complete the work before beginning to return the money expended to the treasury. Small tracts could be irrigated and disposed of to settlers at actual cost of the reclamation, thus establishing an income from the sale of land.

Marshall Kent Held for Trial.

CHAMPAIGN, Ill., June 25.—The preliminary hearing of City Marshal Thomas Kent of this city for the alleged murder of a negro who died from smallpox, and it is charged, the effects of the whipping which it is alleged Kent administered, has been brought to an end for the present by Justice Snyder. The case has been on trial two days. The defense denied the accusation of the whipping, but the court found ground sufficient to hold Kent to await the action of the grand jury, and placed him under $200 bonds.

TAYLOR MEN DUMP
THE HAUGEN FORCELA FOLLETTE'S SENATORIAL BOOM ALSO SQUASHED.

Madison Caucuses Last Night Gave the Two Factions their First Chance to Test their Strength and Democratic Aid Couldn't Save the Ex-Congressman.

MADISON, June 25.—Haugen and La Follette were snowed under in the Madison caucuses. La Follette even lost his own ward. There was said to be a scheme on foot to run in a lot of young democrats in the interest of the La Follette gang and to control the caucuses by hook or crook. It was rumored that this was a part of the duty Chief of Police Adamson was expected to perform as an evidence of his appreciation of the work of the republican faction in electing Corcoran mayor and thus saving the chief from dismissal from the force.

All this sort of thing made the straight out republicans highly indignant. "We want no democratic help in our caucuses," remarked one "and no republican who banks on that kind of assistance is fit to be called a republican or can get the backing of his party."

FIRM CAUSES A ROW.

Its Maps of British Guiana and Venezuela Make Complications.

WASHINGTON, June 25.—The Venezuelan minister to Washington has brought to the attention of the state department a grievance of his government against a Chicago firm, which has published an atlas giving to British Guiana the disputed territory which Venezuela asserts is rightfully hers and which includes valuable gold mines. These Chicago publishers, it is said, applied to Venezuela for official information as to the boundary lines and received it, and issued their work with the protested boundary in British Guiana, whereupon the minister for interior affairs of Venezuela promulgated an order which forbids the introduction of the book in Venezuelan territory.

Identified as Paxton's Body.

RACINE, Wis., June 25.—The body found in the lake off North Point was identified to-day as that of J. A. Paxton of the Chicago board of trade. A friend of the deceased, Mrs. Curry, and the wife of the deceased came here to-day and identified the body, which was buried at Mound cemetery. The coroner's jury returned a verdict that he came to his death by drowning.

Wins the American Derby.

CHICAGO, June 23.—"Lucky" Baldwin's colt, Rey el Santa Anita, won the American Derby Saturday afternoon, beating both eastern and western turf cracks. The time was 2:36, the same as that made last year by the winner, Boundless. The betting against the winner was 50 to 1. Nearly 40,000 people saw the race.

THE TOUTS FAILED TO SKIN MR. WESTBY

TOOK THEIR "TIP" AND PLAYED IT TO WIN.

He Was a Sprinter Manager and Knew a Trick or Two Himself—Luna's Mile Was a Fast One—Cameron's Stubbornness Results in Giving McHenry $200.

Touts are not infallible; strange as it may seem some of them have been known to lie. Such was the case at the fair grounds Saturday. Two ordinary looking boys were seen sauntering about the quarter stretch. One had a very red nose, but that had no bearing on this story. They were not the only saunterers. A short, stocky man, with a fierce black mustache also sauntered. Soon they came together.

"Tom Miller is a sure thing in the 2:37 class," whispered the tout to the man with the fierce mustache. Then the touts smiled to themselves. Tom Miller's chances of winning, they thought, were so thin as to be laughable. When they saw the man buy Tom Miller at the pool stands for the second and third heats they laughed openly. 'Twas too good a joke; they had to tell it.

The horses got the word. Ben Gaines led to the quarter and the touts still laughed. A yellow-capped driver began to pass the leaders and lapped Ben Gaines on the back stretch.

"That's Cecil Wilkes" remarked the touts.

It wasn't.

It was Tom Miller. McHenry urged Sister Ethel through the bunch. One hundred feet from the wire he was whipping the mare on both sides. McGuire smiled and Tom Miller won by a head with McHenry on a break. Ben Gaines took McHenry's place in the next heat but Tom Miller won.

The touts looked sad.

The man with the black mustache cashed his pool tickets and quit.

"Two heats are enough," said he to the touts as he rolled up $90 that he got for $10 and pushed it into his pants pocket.

The man was William Westby, of Brodhead, the manager of Morris, the sprinter.

He knew a trick or two himself.

George McKee is feeling quite well, thank you. Why shouldn't he? The score card issued Saturday had this entry:

"To beat 2:28; Luna b m by Phallmont (Burns)."

"Can she do it?" was asked of Mr. McKee.

"She can" was the decided answer.

Burns brought her out and scored to the wire. He got the word but only went to the quarter. The game mare was off her stride so he pulled her up. The next time he needed for the word and got it. Luna was working like a machine. To the quarter she sped like the wind and from the quarter to the half she lost no headway.

"She will do it and easily" remarked half a dozen watch holders as the bay mare passed the three-fourths pole. Burns wasn't yelling when he came up the stretch; he was just talking to the mare in an ordinary tone of voice.

The timers conferred half a second while Mr. McKee gazed at the sky. Then the watch watchers handed a paper to the judges down stairs.

"Time 2:21" it read.

That's why Mr. McKee is feeling good.

The rain that came Saturday was worth $200 to M. E. McHenry. Mr. McHenry was not as lucky as that all the week. It didn't rain money every day but that is not the story now. Had the other drivers in the 2:37 trotting race adopted his suggestion it would have rained $50 instead. At the end of the fourth heat the rain came and McHenry proposed dividing the money as the race stood. The other drivers were willing but Mr. Cameron, the owner of Nannie Wilson wanted to race. He had his mare hitched to a high wheel sulky when he came out on the muddy track and thought he had an advantage. He was much surprised when the judges refused to allow him to use it, saying that he must do as the others did and hitched onto the bike with reluctance. McHenry won the first two mud heats handily and got first money, while Gaines captured second, Tom Miller third and Nannie, whose driver made all the trouble fourth. If he had settled at the fourth heat he would have gotten third. His stubbornness cost him $25 and McHenry was $200 gainer thereby.

HORSES HURRIED TO MILWAUKEE

Last of the Race Crowd Left This City This Morning.

M. E. McHenry's palace horse car was attached to the early passenger train on the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway today bound for Milwaukee. Quite a number of passengers, people who attended the races here last week, were among the passengers. Yesterday at 11 o'clock, a special train of fifteen palace horse cars left on the same road for Milwaukee. There were one hundred horses in the several cars, and as many men. There was a large crowd of spectators at the depot to see the special move out. The special was in charge of Conductor A. B. Evans.

PIERSON CAUGHT A SWARM OF BEES

Main Street Gun Smith Adds to His Live Stock.

F. F. Pierson, the North Main street gun smith, is a swarm of bees ahead. Saturday afternoon a stray swarm congregated around his front door and endeavored to settle on a wagon wheel, but the horses kept the wheel so unsteady that the bees finally moved over to North First street near the corner of Odd Fellows block, and finally settled on the water sprinkler of Con. Murphy, which was standing near the corner. Mr. Pierson secured a box and quickly captured the swarm. He now has them safely bived on the roof of his store building. "I did not realize at first that they were bees," said Mr. Pierson. "They came swarming around my door, and I thought it a little too early for flies to come in such swarms. Finally they got to humming around the wagon and then I knew what was up. I got a little sugar when they struck the sprinkling wagon, and captured them very easily. They were passing very low, and I guess they had come from some distance. It is one of the largest swarms I have ever seen."

Worn Out in Harness.

In the harness of every day business work men and women wear out prematurely. For some of us it is not easy, for others, again, it is impossible to get out of harness. It is the in-durable yoke, the strongly forged unbreakable shackle of imitative servitude needful to ourselves and those most dear to us. The weight of it often bows many of us into the grave before our time, but it is undoubtedly true that there is a means of rendering the burden less onerous, and of mitigating the ailments that unremitting toil, especially of a sedentary kind—has a tendency to produce. Over worked clerks in counting houses, mill operatives, bookkeepers, type writers and others testify to the reviving, restorative effects of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, and its power to renew physical and mental energy when overtasked and on the wane. Dyspepsia, falling rigor, rheumatic, bowel and kidney complaints yield to this beneficent medicine, which is a preventative of malaria and counteracts the effects of exposure in inclement weather.

ATHLETICS TAKE THE MILWAUKEES INTO CAMP.

Visitors Had Not Lost a Game This Season But They Have Made a Starter At Last—Score Stood 36 to 6—Janesville Barbers Beaten In Beloit.

Clubs that "haven't been beaten this season," are what the Athletics like. Just such a club came from Milwaukee Saturday night and Sunday afternoon there were things done to them that made the visitors tremble and turn pale. The game was a slaughter, Pitcher Nell, of Milwaukee, was speedy but lacked control and when he wasn't giving bases on balls he was being batted most savagely. McGinley was quite as effective as was necessary but after seven innings, with the score 24 to 5 in favor of Janesville Morrissey went in to pitch and from that time the game was a comedy. There were nothing but slow straight balls pitched, but everything that was batted seemed to drop in a fielder's hands. George Wilbur in center field stopped a long liner and shot it back to first in time to head off the base runner. Another pretty play was the double play from Connors to Morrissey. The summary:

Janesville Barbers Beaten.

The Janesville aggregation of tonsorial artists met the Beloit knights of the razor on the diamond yesterday afternoon in deadly combat. After the struggle, which lasted for nine weary rounds, it was found that the visitors had their whiskers trimmed to the tune of 30 to 9. The boys had a pleasant visit and enjoyed the game hugely. The Belois will play a return game at Janesville next Sunday.

Monterey Stars, 23—Rivals, 6.

The Monterey Stars defeated the Rivals at Athletic park Sunday morning the score being 22 to 6. Gus Hager and Minnick were the battery for the Stars, Jules Hager and Larson for the Rivals. Larson was batted out of the box.

EFFIE ELLSLER HERE THIS WEEK

Thursday Night the Talented Little Actress Comes to Janesville.

Effie Ellsler, who, with her usual company of competent players comes to the opera house Thursday night, is an attraction that is sure of a hearty welcome from our amusement goers.

A special feature of this engagement will be the presentation of "Doris," a new play, written expressly for Miss Ellsler by Robert Drouet. Wherever played the best critics have warmly praised Miss Ellsler, and the author for the superior excellence of acting and play. Some have declared that Effie Ellsler has never appeared to such great advantage as in the role of "Doris," and all unite in saying it is a very strong play, and one the public will generally endorse.

The presence of Frank Weston, Robert Drouet, C. W. Couldock and other competent people, insures a cast of more than usual excellence.

Beat All Other Ascensions.

EDITOR GAZETTE: I have seen all the hot air balloon ascensions which have taken place in, and about Janesville during the last twenty-five years. Whilst all of them were witnessed by large crowds they were simply fizzes by comparison with the one at Crystal Springs yesterday. It was the ne plus, in all respects, of a perfect balloon ascension. Everybody was outspoken in praise and satisfaction. The height attained was about three thousand feet. Some said higher. She sailed off as grand and as perfect as the ordinary gas balloon. It is now about a settled fact that the same aerial explorer will make an ascension on the 4th. There is talk of an alderman taking the professor's place on the bar. Jim will be a big drawing card.

"Viavi."

"The magic word on woman's tongue." The talented lecturer, Mrs. Marion Hunt, gave an illustrated lecture at All Souls church. There was a large audience present, who expressed their high appreciation of this lecture, which was on "Health of Woman." Mrs. Hunt highly recommended the home treatment Viavi as a certain and sure cure for all female weaknesses. She illustrated very clearly how Viavi is food for the whole system, easily applied, soothing in its action. We recommend that every afflicted lady adopt this treatment, which fills a long felt want and is undoubtedly the treatment of the century for women. For Viavi and full particulars call at 103 North First street, between 5 and 6 o'clock p. m. or address.

The Wrong Name.

Kathleen had been put out to service, and Mrs. Berry liked the rosy face of the young Irish girl. One day Kathleen was sent on an errand to town. She was longer than usual, and Mrs. Berry stood on the porch as she came through the field. Kathleen was happy, and Mrs. Berry observed:

"Why, Kathleen, what a rosy, happy face to-day. You look as if the dew had kissed you."

Kathleen dropped her eyes and murmured:

SUNDAY WAS SPENT IN THE OPEN AIR.

PICNICS UP THE RIVER DREW CROWDS.

Concordia Society Netted $127 Toward Paying the Expenses of their Trip to the La Crosse Sangerfest and May Not Go After All—The Balloon Ascension.

Members of the Concordia society crowded Crystal Springs yesterday. There was music by Smith's orchestra and choruses by the society as well as shooting, bowling and games. Fred Kothman made a score of 36 out of a possible 36 and won a red, white and blue sheep. Louis Knipp won another decorated bit of wool and mutton by scoring 27 out of 30 at the bowling alley. Some of the bowlers spent three or four dollars and didn't get even a mutton chop.

Frank Burdick won a straw hat by climbing a rope faster than anybody else could. He also won a Spaulding ball by his good time in the sack race. The foot race, with a base ball bat for a prize, was won by Funk and the pie eating contest by Arthur Low and Arthur Delaney. The prizes were fifty cents and twenty-five cents and the prize winners were so badly daubed that they had to be scraped before the judges could identify them. The picnic was intended to furnish funds for taking the society to the La Crosse sangerfest, and about $127 clear was taken in. However, the La Crosse trip may not be taken, as many of the society think times are too hard.

Balloon Went Up 3,000 Feet.

The balloon ascension at Mayflower park yesterday afternoon was quite a success. The balloon went out about three thousand feet when the trapeze performer let go with his parachute. He dropped all right, and the balloon rolled over, emptied the hot air and smoke and came down on the poor farm. It was seen by many in the city, at Athletic Park. Landlord J. F. Sweeney was an interested spectator at the ascension. It is said another ascension will be made next Sunday from Athletic park, and an effort will be made to secure the professor as a feature of the show July 4.

A prominent young man of this city has been an inveterate cigarette smoker for several years past, and he indulged in the habit to such an extent that it was injuring his health. He has a girl of whom he thinks all the world, and it's a case of vice versa, says the Indianapolis Sentinel. This young lady has a very good complexion, but has an inordinate love for the use of powder, which habit the young man detests as heartily as she does his cigarette habit. They finally agreed that

TIME GETS SHORT IN THE GAZETTE CONTEST.

Only a Little More Than a Week Left—Friends of the Young Ladies Bending All Their Energies to Increasing the Totals of Their Candidates.

Less than two weeks left! The vote keeps growing less and the time keeps growing greater.

It would surprise outsiders to see how the leading half dozen among the piano candidates are piling up ballots. The country contestants have played a prominent part in the last two weeks, showing much more strength than was suspected in the beginning of the canvass. Alphabetically arranged the contestants are:

1. Any one, anywhere in any state is entitled to vote as often as they can buy a copy of The Janesville Gazette containing the coupon.

2. The lady who receives the largest number of votes will receive as good and beautiful a piano as the Shaw Piano company can make.

3. The contest will close June 30, at 9 p. m. Piano will be delivered as soon as the counting of votes is completed.

4. Any person who will bring the Gazette one new subscriber paid in advance will be entitled to the following number of ballots:

New subscriber paid in advance one month, 100 votes.

New subscriber paid in advance two months, 250 votes.

New subscriber paid in advance six months, 900 votes.

New subscriber paid in advance one year, 2,000.

No person will be allowed extra votes for stopping his paper and having it sent to another name at the same address.

In every instance they must be bona fide new subscribers.

Could anything be fairer? The Gazette wants subscribers. The Shaw piano is seeking friends. Let us rally our energies and make the closing days ring with hurrahs for the favorites.

HARPER'S HISTORY OF THE WAR

Harper's Pictorial History is universally recognized as the best history of the war yet published. This superb work has never been sold for less than $16 to $20. It has been sold only by subscription and but a very few men have been able to buy it.

The pages are the same size as Harper's Weekly and the work contains all the illustrations appearing in that great paper during the war. The work was edited by Richard Grant White and Henry M. Alden and is authentic, complete and reliable.

We have made arrangements whereby we can furnish Gazette subscribers with this splendid history of twenty-six parts at ten cents a part. These twenty-six parts will contain over one thousand war pictures and will make two handsome volumes when bound.

Many official documents of priceless historic value are quoted in full in the copious foot notes, such for instance as Lincoln's inauguration speeches, articles of federation of the early states, constitution of the United States, ordinance of secession, and many important papers, speeches, etc. The war story is consecutive and very fascinating. The introductory chapters, leading up to the struggle, and the chapter on the reconstruction period, are by some of the first writers of the age.

A QUEER SUIT.

With Enoch Arden and Other Peculiar Features.

"I have had something to do with a good many queer lawsuits," said ex-United States Marshal Archie Baxter of Elmira, to a New York Sun reporter, "but I think the one of Evans against Tift was the queerest one of all. Howlan Evans was a farm laborer, and Reuben Tift a well-to-do and prominent farmer for whom Evans frequently worked. They lived in the town of Veteran, in Chemung county. Evans lived with his wife and three young children not far from the Tift farm. In 1864 Evans enlisted in the army and received a bounty of $700. This money he placed in the hands of Farmer Tift for safe keeping, with the injunction that the latter should look after the interests of Evans' family while he was at the front with his regiment.

"About the time Evans went to the war Farmer Tift's wife died. Then Tift began to pay very marked attentions to Soldier Evans' wife. Evans at times forwarded money to Tift—in all, as he claimed, nearly $200. In the spring of 1865 Tift decided to Mrs. Evans a house and twelve acres of land, and soon after that the woman took her children and all her household goods and the personal belongings of herself and absent husband and went to live with Tift on his farm. When Evans came home from the war, soon after that, he found that he had no wife, children or home, and all his efforts to recover his money and property and custody of his children were unavailing. His children grew up under Tift and married. Mrs. Evans had applied for a divorce from her husband while he was in the army, and it was granted to her not long after he came back. Then she married Tift.

"Evans was advised to bring suit against his wife's second husband to recover his $700 bounty money and other moneys that he had sent to Tift while in the army. The case came up in the Chemung county court, and I was appointed referee to hear and report on it. Tift defended the suit, and his defense was courageous, to say the least. He admitted having received Evans' bounty money and the remittances, but he put in a claim for boarding the plaintiff's children, although it was in evidence that he had kept them against the father's wishes and in spite of his efforts to recover the custody of them.

Tift also alleged that Evans was to pay him out of the money for the house and land the former had deeded to Mrs. Evans, as he had made the transfer to her at Evans' request, so that she might have a home. Evans proved, though, that his wife had never occupied the house, but had gone to live with Tift immediately after the transfer was made, and subsequently sold the place for $600 and gave the money to Tift. The defendant also put in as an offset a charge of $150, which he had given one of Evans' daughters when she was married.

"It was, in short, a case of one man having taken possession of another man's family and property, and then insisting that the other man should pay him for doing it. I thought Evans had the best end of the suit and so reported. I suppose he got his money."

The Account Settled in Full.

At a salon in Paris some years ago the Sieur d'Aimerie was one of a group to whom he was imparting an account of his pedigree, which he claimed was derived from the pharaohs of Egypt. Just then the late Baron de Rothschild approached the group, and one of its members called out: "Baron, come and let me make you acquainted with the Sieur d'Aimerie. He comes of pharaonic stock and you ought to know each other." "Yes," said the baron, bowing gravely and addressing D'Aimerie. "I believe our families had some transactions in time past." "Yes," rejoined D'Aimerie, "we have a record that your people when leaving the country borrowed a considerable amount of jewelry from my people, for which I should now like to be repaid, with interest." "I remember the transaction," said Rothschild, "but the account was settled at due date. Your fathers received a check on the banks of the Red sea."

THIS DAY IN HISTORY

- 1218—Simon de Montfort, the elder, was slain.
 1530—Confession of Augsburg, drawn by Luther, Melancthon and others, presented to Charles V and read to the German diet.
 1736—John Horne Tooke, British writer and friend of the American colonies, born in Westminster; died 1812.
 1807—Napoleon Bonaparte met Alexander of Russia on a raft at Tilsit to make peace.
 1841—Alexander Macomb, soldier, hero of Plattsburg, died in Washington; born 1784.
 1876—General George A. Custer and 277 men of his command were massacred by the Sioux on the Little Big Horn river, Montana.
 1887—James Speed, ex-United States attorney general, died in Jefferson county, Ky., born there 1812. (General Speed was an early friend of Lincoln, and at the outbreak of the war yielded to the president's urgent request that he help organize Union troops in his native state. He was United States senator from Kentucky in 1861-3 and became attorney general in 1864.)
 1888—Sydney Howard Gay, journalist and author, died on Staten Island; born 1814.

CONGRESSIONAL CONVENTION.

A republican convention for the First congressional district of Wisconsin will be held at the city hall in the city of Racine, Tuesday, July 24, 1894, at 10 o'clock a. m., for the purpose of placing in nomination a candidate for congress, electing a congressional committee and the transacting of any other business that may properly come before the convention.

The several counties in the district will be entitled to representation by delegates as follows: Green, 5; Kenosha, 3; La Fayette, 5; Racine, 8; Rock, 12; Walworth, 8. L. H. PARKER, Chairman Republican Congressional Com. Beloit, Wis., June 14, 1894.

SENATORIAL CONVENTION.

A republican convention in and for the Seventeenth senatorial district, will be held at Brodhead on Tuesday, the fourth day of September, 1894, at 11 o'clock a. m., for the purpose of re-nominating a candidate for state senator and for the transaction of such other business as may properly come before the convention. Each voting precinct in the district will be entitled to one delegate in the convention.

J. B. TREAT,
 IRA U. FISHER,
 HANS QUALE,
 Committee.

COUNTY CONVENTION.

Also twelve delegates to the state convention to be held at Milwaukee July 25, 1894, to nominate state officers. The several wards and towns in Rock county will be entitled to delegates in convention as follows: Avon 2, Beloit 3, Beloit City First ward 4, Second ward 5, Third ward 6, Fourth ward 6, Bradford 2, Center 3, Clinton 3, Clinton Village 3, Edgerton City 4, Fulton 4, Harmony 2, Janesville 2, Janesville City First ward 7, Second ward 5, Third ward 7, Fourth ward 5, Fifth ward 3, Johnstown 2, La Prairie 2, Lima 3, Magnolia 3, Milton 8, Newark 4, Plymouth 3, Porter 3, Rock 2, Spring Valley 4, Turtle 2, Union 3, Village of Evansville 6. Per order county republican committee.

W. T. VANKIRK,
 Chairman.

"LOGIC" NOT ALWAYS HEEDED.

The republican party won its first great victory, we may profitably remember, with a man who was then comparatively unknown, and whose claims were by no means so strong, strictly speaking, as those of his principal competitors. In point of reward for past service and recognition of demonstrated statesmanship, Seward should have been nominated in 1860; and if not Seward then Chase. But the convention put aside both of those distinguished leaders, along with several other prominent anti-slavery champions, and selected Lincoln; and surely a better day's work was never done by any political body. Perhaps that experience can be repeated in a fairly successful degree two years hence. To be sure, we have no tangible reason to suppose that there is an undeveloped prototype of Lincoln among our present politicians; but the fact remains, nevertheless, that the party secured its biggest man by disregarding the claims of those who were at the time rated much above him for ability and for political labor already performed. It will not do, therefore, to insist that the next candidate must be taken from any pre-arranged list. The people may in their wisdom conclude to reject all of the aspirants who are now being discussed, and make a standard-bearer of some less conspicuous man, with the possibility of thus evolving a greater statesman than any of them.

COST OF THE GREAT STRIKES.

Twenty million dollars lost in the great coal strikes of the last two months! That is the conservative estimate of statisticians who have carefully gone over the subject with all the attainable facts before them. Of this vast sum it is computed that twelve and one-half million dollars have fallen on labor alone, while the remaining seven and one-half millions are divided among the operators, the manufacturers who were compelled to pay increased prices for coal, the railroads and other transportation agencies.

Well, indeed, have strikes been called "wars." They are, in fact, worse than wars, if that were possible. They are industrial barbarism. The loss of these millions to laboring men can never be recovered. It is so much industry blotted out, so much capital destroyed. The labor union that finds some way of settling questions other than by the exhaustion of one or both parties will do its members and the world at large incalculable service.

Down in Ohio some of McKinley's enemies claim that Reed, by appointing McKinley chairman of the Ways and Means committee, made himself responsible for the tariff law that bears the latter's name. This may all be but such things do not count for much in the matter of a contest for the presidency.

How President Havemeyer, of the sugar trust smiled when Senator Gorman testified to being wholly ignorant of the sources from which funds had been derived to carry on democratic campaigns.

The treasury gold fund is down to the lowest point that it has yet reached, and the party that used to assail republicans because the country had a "surplus" is monumentally silent.

Every time the average voter puts a spoonful of sugar in his coffee, he will be reminded that it is his duty to cast a ballot against the democratic party

SAYING AND DOING.

"Is the sermon done?" was the question asked of an elderly lady as she left the church door.

"No," was her answer, "it's all been said, and now we have got to do it."

This wise answer reveals that the elderly lady in her long life had become convinced of the marked difference between saying and doing.

To promise is one thing; to execute one's promise is another matter and one that is often extremely difficult to fulfill and it's right here that there comes the difference between "saying" and "doing."

We have been saying to you for the last ten years about the uniformly high character of our goods; about the extremely low margin of profit we have added to the cost and about our cash money-saving method of buying and our constantly increasing trade and new customers continually being liberal purchasers convince us that we are really "Doing and Saying" that is we are doing what we are saying.

CITY BONDS SOLD
AT A HIGH PRICE.SIX HUNDRED DOLLARS MADE
BY WAITING.

Interest Reduced Nearly to 4 per Cent
—Rev. Mrs. Gibbs Says Farewell
Col. Smith at the Congregational
Church—Horse Dropped Dead
From Heat—Local News.

MAYOR THOROUGHGOOD made six hundred dollars for the city by absenting himself from the city last week and thereby postponing the sale of the school bonds. The bonds were sold this afternoon to the Illinois Trust and Savings bank, Chicago, the $52,000 bringing $54,631.20, or at a premium of $2,631.20. This amounts to selling of 105.06 per cent and makes the rate of interest 4 1/2 per cent. Fourteen bids were received. Mayor Thoroughgood stated that owing to an oversight only $52,000 of the $55,000 bonds could be sold at this time. The statutes provided that bonds could not run longer than twenty years, $3,000 of the bonds as advertised at first would run for a longer time, hence the three thousand were withdrawn, but would probably be sold later. The premiums bid ranged from $550 up, and were from these firms: Commercial Savings bank, Racine; State Bank of Madison; N. W. Harris & Co., Chicago; Mason, Lewis & Co., Chicago; W. J. Hayes & Son, Spitzer & Co., Toledo; Illinois Trust & Savings bank; C. H. White & Co., Chicago; I. H. Scanlan; Farnon, Leech & Co., First National bank, Janesville; Merchants & Mechanics Savings bank, Janesville; E. H. Rawlins & Son; Charles Schley & Co., Milwaukee, and the Rock County National bank, Janesville. "I congratulate you Mr. Mayor," said the representative of the Illinois Trust Company, as he addressed Mayor Thoroughgood after the award. "Had you disposed of those bonds last week they would have sold for six hundred dollars less than they were sold today."

PATRICK DORSEY, John Sullivan and Hugh Smith were an interesting trio of disorderly drunks that were arraigned in the municipal court this morning. They were adjudged guilty. Dorsey was fined five dollars and costs, and Sullivan and Smith were sent down for five days.

THESE fine dining room chairs are out of our line, but we had to take them to get our money. We don't expect to get for them more than 75 cents on the dollar, and don't you expect to get them for those prices after we are out of them. Grubb Bros.

MISS OBRIST WALKS WITH FAITH'S AID.HELPLESS FOR 29 YEARS SHE SUDDENLY RISES.

What Seems Like a Miracle Startles the People Who Knew the Bed-Ridden Sufferer—She Lays Her Recovery to the Prayers of the Two Tent Evangelists.

Mary A. Obrist, 105 Caroline street, an invalid for twenty-nine years, totally unable to leave her bed for seventeen years, and almost dumb for fourteen years, now gets up and walks.

Faith is said to have worked a miracle in her case.

She prayed fervently for relief.

Rev. A. W. Welch and Rev. U. Deviller, the evangelists occupying the tent on a High street, north of the Y. M. C. A. building, went to her house Thursday and again on Saturday and prayed for her relief.

Saturday afternoon relief came. Miss Obrist spoke, then straightened out her feet, and with a joyful cry of "Jesus!" walked across the room. All insisted that their prayers had been heard and answered in the affirmative.

Sunday the patient was up and about the house, and went in a carriage to the tent meeting in the afternoon.

Neighbors Were Startled.

There was great excitement on Caroline street in the neighborhood of Miss Obrist's little home.

Neighbors saw her walking from her carriage into her home, and stood wondering what had taken place. Then they looked at the little cottage to see if their eyes had deceived them.

For twenty-five years Miss Obrist has been bed-ridden, and she has not been able to touch a foot to the floor since 1867. The evangelists came to the city, they learned of her long confinement and called. They then suggested a united appeal to heaven, which was done and all joined in fervent prayer for relief.

"Come out of this woman, thou devil," said Rev. Mr. Welch finally and Miss Obrist, without previous preparation arose and walked about her little room. Sunday, as said before, a carriage was procured, and she visited the tent of the evangelists on High street and returned home. Sunday evening she held an impromptu prayer meeting on her front porch.

EXCURSION A GRAND SUCCESS.

All Who Went Were Pleased With Columbia County Land.

The Columbia excursion has come and gone. One hundred and twenty-five people, under the direction of C. S. Graves, arrived there Saturday morning on a special C. & N. W. train at 4 o'clock. During the day every body was well entertained, and enjoyed themselves roaming about Columbia, and being favorably impressed.

They remained all day Saturday, left Saturday night arriving home Sunday morning at 4 o'clock. A more pleased lot of people were never on an excursion. Not a dissenting voice was to be heard. The Columbia Improvement Co. and the C. S. Graves Land Co. were well pleased as they sold thirty-five lots, many of them at $50 each, and 2000 acres of land.

The assertions of these two companies were found to be true in every sense of the word, as all the excursionists found Columbia to be a hustling town, and Clark county land some of the best. The following affidavit which is signed by over sixty of the excursionists will speak for itself.

"To the C. S. Graves Land Co., and the Columbia Improvement Co. We, the undersigned, have personally examined the land and lots owned and for sale by you at Columbia, Clark county, Wis., and considered the land cheap at the price asked, namely $7.50 per acre. We find the soil a sandy loam with a clay subsoil and well adapted for general purposes. We have bought land or lots of you or intend doing so and know others who have and are perfectly satisfied. We consider the lots well worth the money asked for them and any one wanting farm land or lots would advise them to buy of you as they will find the land just as advertised and all it is claimed to be and we hereby give you permission to refer to us at any time in regard to the land or lots."

Hatch Feels Elated.

WASHINGTON, June 25.—Col. Hatch is much elated over the passage of his anti-option bill. The majority was larger than he had hoped to get and he regards the excess over his expectations as safe ground on which to base hope that the bill will pass the senate, too, but it won't.

Birds and Trees.

It is a remarkable fact, says a naturalist, that, notwithstanding the voluminous literature that has been written on birds and their habits, no writer has noticed the preference certain species give to certain trees.

Jays and rooks are found in the greatest number in oak trees; finches, in lime trees; and blackcaps among laurels. The nightingale is always found in the greatest numbers in nut groves; while the thrush evinces a decided preference for birch and ash. The beech is the favorite tree of the woodpecker; and the numerous families of tits are generally found in the greatest abundance among the blackthorn.

JOHN A. DECKER FAILS.

Prominent Tobacco Dealer Weighed Down by Debts.

Rock county people will be surprised to hear that John A. Decker, the Harmony farmer and tobacco dealer, has failed.

Mr. Decker, through his attorneys, Sutherland & Nolan, petitioned the circuit court that he be discharged from the payment of his debts. The indebtedness consists mainly in promissory notes, many given to Janesville people. The liabilities, which are partly secured by mortgages on real estate and personal property, will amount to nearly forty thousand dollars, there being upwards of one hundred creditors named in the petitions, varying in amounts from $5 to $1,000.

FUNERAL OF D. H. RUST ON SUNDAY.

Services Conducted by Rev. E. H. Pence—Old Friends as Pall Bearers.

The remains of D. H. Rust were buried in Oak Hill Sunday afternoon, funeral services conducted by Rev. E. H. Pence, of the Presbyterian church being held at 3 o'clock. The song service was rendered by the Presbyterian choir. There was a large attendance, the pall bearers being Archie Reid, Alex. Galbraith, James Scott, R. W. King, E. D. Roberts, and W. R. Proudfoot.

GAS PLANT PASSES TO A NEW CONCERN.

OUTSIDE CAPITALISTS INTERESTED IN THE BUSINESS.

Mr. Merrill Unwilling to Bear the Burden of Active Supervision—He Will Retain a Large Share of the Stock and Probably Will be President.

Arrangements are being rapidly completed whereby the United Gas Improvement Company of Philadelphia will have an interest in the New Gas Light Company of this city. Hon. Hiram Merrill, the principal owner of the plant, and who has been its superintendent for more than a quarter of a century, finds himself unwilling by reason of advancing years to again take upon himself the active management of the company, which for several years had been confided to his son Harry, whose death has been and will continue to be an irreparable loss to the business and social interests of our city. Mr. Merrill has always been one of our most progressive citizens, seeking the advancement of the city as well as his own interests. This element of his character is again signally manifested by his association with him in the future management of the home plant so powerful an organization as the United Gas Improvement Company of Philadelphia. This company is the owner of a large majority of the patents upon gas machinery and the manufacture of gas for illuminating and mechanical purposes. It has a paid-up capital of fifty millions of dollars and owns or operates over fifty of the most important gas plants in the United States. Within a short time a new superintendent will be selected who will assume the active management of affairs in this city. Nothing will be left undone to make this plant one of the most perfect in the country. A large amount of new machinery will be added and everything put in the best possible condition. Mr. Merrill will retain a large financial interest in the business and will probably be the president. The board of directors will be made up almost exclusively of Janesville parties. Citizens have every reason to congratulate themselves upon this new arrangement and to thank Mr. Merrill for giving the best service that can be procured.

A FAMOUS RESORT.

Hot Springs, Garland county Arkansas, has been a resort for invalids since the first cabin was built in 1809. Legend identifies these springs with the "Fountain of Youth" of Ponce de Leon. The town and springs are on a reserve of four sections set aside by congress in 1832. There are seventy-one springs in number, with a total discharge of 335 gallons per minute. The well-known efficacy of the water in the treatment of chronic cases of the skin, joints and mucous membranes, is due without doubt to their temperature and not to their mineral constituents. The waters are no doubt beneficial in cases of neuralgia and rheumatism but the great remedy, Sanspareil, sold by all druggists is guaranteed to produce more favorable result. Don't experiment with inferior remedies. Try Sanspareil for rheumatism, neuralgia, headache, tumors, wens, goitre, sprains, sore throat, inflammation of the bowels, etc.

SAVE THE SABBATH SAYS TALMAGE.

DR. TALMAGE SAYS THE SABBATH MUST BE SAVED.

It Came to Us on the Mayflower and Will Leave Us on the Ark of National Destruction if We Are Not Vigilant of God's Command.

BROOKLYN, June 24.—For today, Rev. Dr. Talmage has chosen a subject of world-wide interest as the theme of his sermon through the press, viz: the necessity of guarding the Christian Sabbath against invasions that aim at its destruction. The text selected was Ex. 31:13, "Verily, My Sabbaths Ye Shall Keep."

The wisdom of cessation from hard labor one day out of seven is almost universally acknowledged. The world has found out that it can do less work in seven days than in six, and that the fifty-two days of the year devoted to rest are an addition rather than a subtraction. Experiments have been made in all departments. The great Lord Castlereagh thought he could work his brain three hundred and sixty-five days in the year, but after awhile broke down and committed suicide; and Wilberforce said of him, "Poor Castlereagh! This is the result of the non-observance of the Sabbath!"

A celebrated merchant declared: "I should have been a maniac long ago but for the Sabbath." The nerves, the brain, the muscles, the bones, the entire physical, intellectual and moral nature cry out for the Sabbath rest. What is true of man is, for the most part, true of the brute. Travelers have found out that they come to their places of destination sooner when they let their horses rest by the way on the Sabbath. What is the matter with those forlorn creatures harnessed to some of the city cars? Why do they stumble, and stagger, and fall? It is for the lack of the Sabbath rest.

In other days, when the herdsmen drove their sheep and cattle from the far west down to the seaboard, it was found out by experiment that those herdsmen and drovers who halted over the seventh day got down sooner to the seaboard than those who passed on without the observance of the holy Sabbath. The fishermen off the coast of Newfoundland declare that those men during the year catch the most fish who stop during the Lord's day.

When I asked the Rocky Mountain locomotive engineer why he changed locomotives when it seemed to be a straight route, he said: "We have to let the locomotive stop and cool off or the machinery would soon break down." Men who made large quantities of salt were told that if they allowed their kettles to cool over Sunday they would submit themselves to a great deal of damage. The experiment was made, some observing the Sabbath and some not observing the Sabbath. Those who allowed the fires go down and the kettles to cool once a week were compelled to spend only a few pennies in the way of repairs; while in the case where no Sabbath was observed, many dollars were demanded for repairs.

In other words, intelligent man, dumb beast, and dead machinery cry out for the Lord's day. But while the attempt to kill the Sabbath by the stroke of axe and flail and yardstick has beautifully failed, it is proposed in our day to drown the Sabbath by flooding it with secular amusements. They would bury it very decently under the wreath of the target company and to the music of all brazen instruments.

There are to-day, in the different cities, ten thousand hands and ten thousand pens busy in attempting to cut out the heart of our Christian Sabbath, and leave it a bleeding skeleton of what it once was. The effort is organized and tremendous, and unless the friends of Christ and the lovers of good order shall rouse up right speedily, their sermons and protests will be uttered after the castle is taken. There are cities in the land where the Sabbath has almost perished, and it is becoming a practical question whether we who received a pure Sabbath from the hands of our fathers shall have piety and pluck enough to give to our children the same blessed inheritance. The eternal God helping us, we will!

I protest against this invasion of the holy Sabbath, in the first place, because it is a war on Divine enactment. God says, in Isaiah: "If thou turn away thy foot from doing thy pleasure on my holy day, thou shalt walk upon the high places." What did he mean by "doing thy pleasure?" He referred to secular and worldly amusements. A man told me he was never so much frightened as in the midst of an earthquake, when the beasts of the field bellowed in fear, and even the barnyard fowls screamed in terror. Well, it was when the earth was shaking and the sky was all full of fire that God made the announcement: "Remember the Sabbath day to keep it holy."

Go through the streets where the theaters are open on a Sabbath night; go up on the steps; enter the boxes of these places of entertainments, and tell me if that is keeping the Sabbath holy. "O," says some one, "God won't be displeased with a grand sacred concert." A gentleman who was present at a "grand sacred concert" one Sabbath night in one of the theaters of our great cities, said that during the exercises there were comic and sentimental songs, interspersed with coarse jokes; and there were dances, and a farce, and tight rope walking, and a trapeze performance. I suppose it was a holy dance and a consecrated tight rope. This is what they call a "grand sacred concert."

We hear a great deal of talk about "the rights of the people" to have just such amusements on Sunday as they want to have. I wonder if the Lord has any rights. You rule your family, the governor rules the state, the President rules the whole land; I wonder if the Lord has a right to rule the nations and make the enactment, "Remember the Sabbath day to keep it holy," and if there is any appeal to a higher court from that decision, and if the men who are warring against the enactment are not guilty of high treason against the maker of heaven and earth. They have in our cities put God on trial. It has been the theaters and the opera houses, plaintiffs, vs. the Lord Almighty, defendant; the suit has been begun, and who shall come out ahead, you know. Whether it be popular or unpopular, I now announce it as my opinion that the people have no rights save those which the great Jehovah gives them. He has never given the right to man to break his holy Sabbath, and as long as his throne stands, he never will give that right.

The prophet asks a question which I can easily answer, "Will a man rob God?" Yes. They robbed him last Sunday night at the theaters and the opera houses, and I charge upon them the infamous and high-handed larceny. I hold the same opinion as a sailor I have heard of. The crew had been discharged from the vessel because they would not work while they were in port on the Lord's day. The captain went out to get sailors. He found one man and he said to him, "Will you serve me on the Sabbath?" "No." "Why not?" "Well," replied the old sailor, "a man who will rob God Almighty of his Sabbath would rob me of my wages if he got a chance."

Suppose you were poor, and you came to a dry goods merchant and asked for some cloth for garments, and he should say, "I'll give you six yards; and while he was off from the counter binding up the six yards you should go behind the counter and steal one additional yard. That is what every man does when he breaks the Lord's Sabbath. God gives us six days out of seven, reserving one for himself, and if you will not let him have it, it is mean beyond all computation."

Again: I am opposed to this desecration of the Sabbath by secular entertainments because it is a war on the statutes of most of the states. The law in New York state says:

"It shall not be lawful to exhibit, on the first day of the week, commonly called Sunday, to the public, in any building, garden, grounds, court room or other room or place within the city and county of New York, any interlude, tragedy, comedy, opera, ballet, play, farce, negro minstrelsy, negro or other dancing, or any other entertainment of the stage, or any part or parts therein, or any equestrian, circus, or dramatic performance, or any performance of jugglers, acrobats or rope-dancing."

Was there ever a plainer enactment than that? Who made the law? You, who at the ballot boxes decided who should go to Albany and sit in the legislature. You who in any region exercise the right of suffrage. They made the law for you and for your families, and now I say that any man who attempts to over-ride that law insults you and me and every man who has the right of suffrage.

Still further: I protest against the invasion of the Sabbath, because it is a foreign war. Now, if you hear at this moment the booming of a gun in the harbor, or if a shell from some foreign frigate should drop into your street, would you keep your seats in church? You would want to face the foe and every gun that could be managed would be brought into use, and every ship that could be brought out of the navy yard would swing from her anchorage, and the question would be decided. You do not want a foreign war, and yet I have to tell you that this invasion of God's holy day is a foreign war.

As among our own native-born population there are two classes—the good and the bad; so it is with the people who come from other shores—there are the law-abiding and the lawless. The former are welcome here. The more of them the better we like it. But let not the lawless come from other shores expecting to break down our Sabbath and institute in the place of it a foreign Sabbath.

How do you feel, ye who have been brought up amid the hills of New England, about giving up the American Sabbath? Ye who spent your childhood under the shadow of the Adirondacks or the Catskills; ye who were born on the banks of the Savannah, or Ohio, or Oregon, how do you feel about giving up the American Sabbath? You say: "We shall not give it up. We mean to defend it as long as there is left any strength in our arm, or blood in our heart! Do not bring your Spanish Sabbath here. Do not bring your Italian Sabbath here. Do not bring your French Sabbath here. Do not bring your foreign Sabbath here. It shall be for us and our children forever a pure, consecrated, Christian, American Sabbath."

I will make a comparison between the American Sabbath, as some of you have known it, and the Parisian Sabbath. I speak from observation. On a Sabbath morning I was aroused in Paris by a great sound in the street. I said: "What is this?" "O," they said, "this is Sunday." An unusual rattle of vehicles of all sorts. The voices seemed more boisterous than on other days. People running to and fro, with baskets or bundles, to get to the rail trains or gardens. It seemed as if all the vehicles in Paris, of whatever sort, had turned out for the holiday. The "Champs Elysees" one great mob of pleasure-seeking people. Balloons flying. Parrots chattering. Footballs rolling. Peddlers hawking their knick-knacks through the streets. Punch and Judy shows in a score of places, each one with a shouting audience. Hand organs, symbols, and every kind of racket, musical and unmusical. When the evening came down, all the theaters were in full blaze of music, and full blaze of light. The winestores and saloons were thronged with an unusual number of customers. At even-tide I stood and watched the excursionists coming home, fagged out men, women and children, a gulf-stream of fatigue, irritability, and wretchedness; for I think it would take three or four days to get over that miserable way of Sundaying. It seemed more like an American Fourth of July than a Christian Sabbath.

Now, in contrast, I present one of the Sabbaths in one of our best American cities. Holy silence coming down with the day dawn. Business men more deliberately looking into the faces of their children, and talking to them about their present and future welfare. Men sit longer at the table in the morning, because the stores are not to be opened, and the mechanical tools are not to be taken up. A hymn is sung. There are congratulations and good cheer all through the house. The street silent until 10 o'clock, when there is a regular, orderly tramp churchward. Houses of God, vocal with thanksgiving for mercies received, for prayers with comfort, with charities for the poor. Rest for the body. Rest for the soul. The nerves quieted, the temples cooled, the mind cleared, the soul strengthened, and our entire population turned out on Monday morning ten years younger, better prepared for the duties of this life, better prepared for the life that is to come.

Which do you like best, the American Sabbath or the Parisian Sabbath? Do you know in what boat the Sabbath came across the seas and landed on our shores? It was in the "Mayflower." Do you know in what boat the Sabbath will leave us, if it ever goes? It will be in the ark that floats over a deluge of national destruction.

Bring your voices, your pens, your printing presses and your pulpits into the Lord's artillery corps for the defense of our holy day. To-day, in your families and in your Sabbath schools, recite: "Remember the Sabbath day to keep it holy." Decree before high heaven that this war on your religious rights and the cradles of your children shall bring ignominious defeat to the enemies of God and the public weal. For those who die in the contest battling for the right we shall chisel the epitaph: "These are they who came out of great tribulation, and had their robes washed and made white in the blood of the lamb." But for that one who shall prove in this moral crisis recreant to God and the church there shall be no honorable epitaph. He shall not be worthy even of a burial place in all this free land; but the appropriate interment for such an one would be to carry out his remains and drop them into the sea, where the lawless winds which keep no Sabbath may gallop over the grave of him who lived and died a traitor to God, the church and the free institutions of America. Long live the Christian Sabbath. Perish forever all attempts to overthrow it.

AN AMERICAN QUEEN AND HER FOUR DAUGHTERS. A Scene on the 3 O'clock Express Between Boston and Worcester, Mass.

[SPECIAL TO OUR LADY READERS.] It was a pretty sight. The passengers turned around in their seats to better note the something unusual.

A noble looking woman had entered the car, followed by four daughters, ageing from fifteen to twenty years.

Themother had one of those good and wholesome faces that one so rarely sees, but that men and women always admire. The daughters had the same healthy, wholesome look. They were well born, well cared for, and, without doubt, never suffered from any of the ills that curse many women.

Mothers owe a duty to their daughters that in too many cases is neglected.

Nature has provided a time for purification, and if the channels are obstructed, the entire system is poisoned and misery comes.

Mrs. Chas. Hines of Duncannon, Pa., a woman of large experience, in speaking of a mother's duty, says: "Watch carefully your daughters' physical development."

"Mothers should see that nature is assisted, if necessary, to perform its office, and keep their daughters well informed as to matters concerning themselves."

Irregularities, from whatever cause, are sure indications of organic trouble. With irregularities come disturbance of the stomach and kidneys.

Violent headaches often attack the victim, pains shoot everywhere. Extreme irritability follows quickly, and then utter despondency overtakes the already overburdened life. Unless the obstruction is removed at once, your daughter's whole future will be darkened.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will accomplish the work speedily. It is the most effective remedy for irregular or suspended action known.

That Shaw Will become the property of some popular young lady within the next four weeks.

We do not dare to predict who will get it, but a "dark horse" is talked of and the ballots will come in with a rush within the next three weeks, therefore those interested want to redouble their energies so that their particular favorite will not be behind in this popular contest.

A Word About the Shaw Piano The first pianos made by the company were placed on the market less than five years ago. Instantly the trade recognized their merits and put in bids for territory, until at this time these instruments can be seen almost everywhere. To be able to build such a good business in so short a time there must be great policy behind the house.

The policy of the Shaw Piano Company, is first to build a good instrument, second, to advertise it largely and artistically. The first part of the policy, to build a good instrument, is amply testified to by the favor they have met with both from dealer and artist.

The Shaw Piano is strictly a high grade first-class instrument, one that the purchasing public can have every confidence in. Messrs. S. C. Burnham & Co., of our city have for years been representing other first-class pianos but have been won by the construction, tone and quality of this new aspirant for honors so that today they are bending all their energies in favor of the Matchless Shaw, as it is termed. With no remorse of conscience they claim it is the finest musical instrument in the piano line they have ever represented.

Judging from the above account of this wonderful piano is it any wonder that the contest now going on is attracting universal attention. Rally round your favorite lady, boys. See that she becomes the happy possessor of a SHAW.

Catarrh AND COLD IN THE HEAD relieved instantly by one application of Birney's Catarrh Powder

Rev. Father Clarke, Sec'y to the Rt. Rev. Bishop of Columbus, Ohio, writes: "I cannot say enough for your Powder. It has cured me of an aggravated attack of catarrh when nothing else could help me. Am delighted with it. All my friends to whom I administered samples, are quite enthusiastic over it. The good sisters speak most encouragingly of their use of it in the Hospital under their care. I will do anything to speak a good word for the remedy for help others who are suffering."

M. E. PRITCHARD, Custodian, U. S. Appraiser's Stores, Chicago, writes: "Being almost entirely deaf for a number of years past and getting no relief from many so-called cures which I tried, was induced by a friend to try Dr. Birney's Catarrh Powder for my deafness. Have recovered my hearing entirely, so that I can now hear a watch tick plainly. It being held in place by my ear. I look upon it as a positive cure for deafness and have recommended its use to many of my friends and can say I have never heard of a case where it has failed to relieve."

WOULDN'T SHOOT A GRIZZLY.

An English Man of the World Who Thinks Civilization a Failure.

An artist friend of mine for several years had a studio in Boston, says a writer in Donahoe's Magazine. He had another friend who lived somewhere in the Rocky mountains when at home. This Western man walked across the continent every year and passed several months in the lumber regions of Canada, where he made enough money by cutting down trees to support himself during the leisure months. About the same time every year he walked into my friend's studio, made some comment on the progress of art in the city, criticised new buildings, or monuments, had a cup of tea, chatted and smoked for an hour, and then quietly said "good-by," without shaking hands, as he started out for his constitutional walk to the Rockies. This man was an Englishman. A giant in height and girth, with the soft, low, gentle voice of one accustomed to live in solitude, he had seen much of the world and had taken an active part in great European events. He wore a wide-leaved white hat, a blue shirt, and his trousers were stowed partly away in his big boots. He was well educated and had the wise and true thing to say upon any subject that came up. But he spoke little.

"Why on earth do you live in the Rockies?" said the artist.

"Just because I like it. I have to keep away from civilization if I am to live at all. It is ruining everything. The only intelligence that I can find in London or Boston is the machinery. All the men have become helpless. Everything is done for you. You will soon forget how to walk. Your legs will drop off, as useless, and you'll be shot down the street through pneumatic tubes. Then your hands, ears, eyes and noses will go in the same fashion, and there'll be nothing left but mouth and wind. You will then be completely civilized and fit for translation."

"Well," said the Boston man, "that's comforting. But tell me how you live when you're 'to hum.' Do you condescend to live in a house made with hands?"

"With my own hands. I have a log hut on the side of the mountain, the mountain being the principal part of the hut. I don't see a human being for months at a time and don't want to see one."

"Do you ever come across a grizzly?"

"Almost every day."

"You take an occasional shot I presume."

"Shoot a grizzly! I'd as soon think of shooting a baby. Why, they're the only friends I have. We are on terms of intimate acquaintance. I don't harm them and they don't harm me. The beasts I'd like to shoot are the fellows calling themselves sportsmen who come out to disturb the tranquil, amiable temper of my bear friends. Come out some time and see for yourself. You'll find more true religion among grizzly bears than among many so-called Christians of your cities. Good-by."

No Motion, But Much Matter.

Henry W. Paine, the eminent Boston lawyer, once went to one of the interior towns of Maine, where a boy was on trial for arson. He had no counsel, and Mr. Paine was assigned by the court to take charge of his case. He discovered after a brief interview with the boy, that he was half-witted. The jury, however, was composed of farmers who owned barns such as the defendant was alleged to have set on fire, and in spite of the boy's evident weakness of intellect, they brought in a verdict of guilty. The presiding justice turned to Mr. Paine and remarked: "Have you any motion to make?" Mr. Paine arose and, in his dry and weighty manner answered: "No, your honor; I believe I have secured for this idiot boy all that the laws of Maine and the constitution of the United States allow—a trial by his peers.—Argonaut."

Thomas Jefferson and the Plow.

It appears that Thomas Jefferson invented the modern plow. There were plows, of course, thousands of years before the time of the sage of Monticello, but he first laid down the mathematical principles that underlie the construction of the plow, and so enabled any blacksmith to make one. A plow consists of two wedges, a cutting and a lifting wedge, and Jefferson discovered and enunciated the proportions of each, and the relation each bore to the other. Before his day no two smiths made plows alike; now they are all made in accordance with a mathematical formula.

HOPE FOR THE HAIRLESS.

Professor Birkholz, of Chicago, Gives Hope to Those Afflicted with Baldness—A "No Cure, No Pay" Treatment.

Professor G. Birkholz, of Chicago, the eminent German specialist, who for years has devoted his time and talent to the study of the hair follicles, and who has evolved the most successful treatment for baldness the world has ever known.

He will carefully examine each case and candidly inform the inquirer whether his baldness can be cured and the hair be restored. These examinations are made without charge.

In all cases where there are any hair follicles remaining undestroyed by age or disease the professor will undertake a cure, and if he does not effect a restoration of the hair he will ask no pay.

The remedy is an importation one, and the treatment given by the professor is his own, and cures where all others fail. If your case has been pronounced incurable do not take it as a final answer until you have seen Professor Birkholz and received his opinion.

Many persons have small bald spots through the hair. These increase in area and in time produce baldness. In such cases the hair follicles need nourishment. Prompt treatment will bring them into activity and restore the hair.

The success that has attended Professor Birkholz everywhere enables him to give a positive opinion in each case presented to him. These should not delay treatment, but call upon the professor at once, 1011 Masonic Temple Chicago.

Hand this notice to any first-class drug store and he will get the remedy for you at once, if he has not got it in stock.

AN EGG STEALER.

The Weasel Is Easily Entitled to the Championship.

Game eggs and small birds alike are the objects of the foes, furred and feathered, who come behind man. The feathered ones naturally have the widest scope; for eggs, whether reposing on the ground or in a well-built nest in a lofty tree, come equally within the range of sight and swoop. The furred ones have to content themselves with the ground eggs, which are, of course, the best; perhaps, therefore, they have the best of the deal, though not so much variety. And among them we rank facile princeps the stealthy, sinuous, ubiquitous weasel. Stoat and polecat like eggs, but they are rarer and more sparsely distributed than the smaller but much more effective weasel. This wily creature is an egg-sucker of immense enthusiasm and perseverance. Winding its way through the purple heather, or the scrub and bracken, toward the nursery of the red or black grouse, creeping amid grass or clover, or scarcely rustling along the leaf-carpeted ditch toward the simple nest of the gallant hen partridge, a veritable amazon in defense of her family, poking its head out of a disused drain in the farm yard, reconnoitering the hen houses, gliding through the long grass at the edges of the rides, and amid the hazels and hollies of the copses after the pheasant's costly eggs, the weasel is equally indefatigable. It will banquet on every egg it can find till gorged like a trout on the may-fly, and kill young birds till it desists only from sheer weariness. Like its semi-tame relative, the ferret, it is in bloodthirstiness and its concomitants a four-footed September.

The New Congressional Library.

The new library of congress at Washington has two porches, which are to be decorated with figures of famous writers of the past, each figure to stand between columns that support the porches. On one side there are four, on another side there are five openings to be decorated with likenesses. These nine statues are as follows: Demosthenes, Scott, Franklin, Goethe, Macaulay, Scott, Irving, Emerson and Hawthorne. The sculpturing will be done by Herbert Adams, Jonathan Hartley and F. Wellington Ruckstuhl.

A Slander Refuted.

"It takes a war, or at least something as theatrical as war, to bring out the patriotism of women," said the oracular man. "Of plain, every day work for the good of the country they haven't the least idea." "I happen to know better than that," said the other man. "I know the wife of a congressman who took the manuscript of a tariff speech her husband was intending to perpetrate and gave it to the hired girl to clean the stove with."

WOMEN OF ALL AGES. And conditions in life are liable at times, to need an invigorating tonic; a Regulator of the natural, periodical function, and a Soothing and Bracing Nerve. For this purpose Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the only medicine so certain in its curative action that it can be guaranteed. Your money is returned if it does not cure.

In Maidenhood, Womanhood, and Motherhood, it invigorates and braces up the exhausted, run-down, overworked and delicate; allays and banishes all Nervous Weakness, Fits, Spasms, Hysteria, Chorea, or St. Vitus's Dance; corrects all unnatural irregularities of monthly function and cures Periodical Pains, Weaknesses, Bearing Down Sensations, Backache, Catarrhal Inflammation, Ulceration and kindred maladies. For those about to become mothers, it is a priceless boon, for it lessens the pains and perils of childbirth, shortens "labor," and the period of confinement, and promotes the secretion of an abundance of nourishment for the child.

What is
CASTORIA

Castoria is Dr. Samuel Pitcher's prescription for Infants and Children. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. It is a harmless substitute for Paregoric, Drops, Soothing Syrups, and Castor Oil. It is Pleasant. Its guarantee is thirty years' use by Millions of Mothers. Castoria is the Children's Panacea—the mother's Friend.

Castoria.

"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me." H. A. ARCHER, M. D., 111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"The use of 'Castoria' is so universal and its merits so well known that it seems a work of supererogation to endorse it. Few are the intelligent families who do not keep Castoria within easy reach." CARLOS MARTIN, D. D., New York City.

"For several years I have recommended your 'Castoria,' and shall always continue to do so as it has invariably produced beneficial results." EDWIN F. PARKER, M. D., 12th Street and 7th Ave., New York City.

ANGIE J. KING, Plaintiff's Attorney.

HERE'S SOME HOT STUFF.

Hotter than the weather we've been having. We have been making it hot for the boys all along the line all spring, and we propose to make it hotter. We have the facilities, the stock and buy so much cheaper than any other clothing merchant in the city that we can and will keep them on the run. Why! We have some of them so rattled that they tell in public that they will turn their business over to any one for $2.00 a day. Oh! what a condition to get into. We have a lot of

Combination Bathing Suits and Sweaters

—JUST THE THING FOR THIS SEASON OF THE YEAR—

BATHING SUITS . .

50c, 75c, $1, $1.35, $1.50, the better class comes in two pieces. IN COLORS—Fancy stripes, black and blues. Those going to the lakes should remember them.

SWEATERS . .

Sizes 34 to 44. Just what you want for hunting, fishing, etc., made in light and tan colors with feather stitched neck and wrist. You may have any of them for 50 cents. Answer the same purpose as a sweater you pay $2 to $3 for.

This sale of Bathing Suits and Sweaters will Positively last but 3 Days.

WE TELL
TRUTH.

What better evidence could we have of the public implicitly believing our announcements than that our store is crowded daily. There must be big attractions for people. We've got would-be competitors on the run with their decoys, their fakes, which attract nothing but passing smiles from those who read their advertisements. No wonder other dealers' tempers are ruffled somewhat while we ride serenely on our successful tidal wave.

"Scrubbing-a-floor" and "moving-a-shelf" sales won't work here in Janesville. The people are onto such rackets, and are not to be caught by such palpably nonsensical and silly assertions. Values—genuine, honest, nineteenth century bargains—are what the people want. They find 'em here every time, and, enormous as our patronage is, Kimball, the old reliable is making new friends every hour, while retaining all the old ones with hands of forged steel.
